Do You Know Where Your Profit Is?

In this section, we'll help you ascertain how well you know where your profit comes from. We'll also determine if you're gathering and analyzing the necessary data you need to make reliable decisions and plan ahead.

Part One. Developing Your Online Marketing Benchmarks

Let's look at each item you've tracked for the past 12 months or longer:

- Number of unique visitors to your website
- Revenue earned per unique visitor
- Amount of time average visitor remained on your website
- Cost per acquisition generated by online marketing efforts
- Number of unique visitors that converted into a lead
- Gross revenue generated by online marketing efforts
- Number of unique visitors that converted into a sale
- Number of Top 10 search listings
- Revenue earned per website sale
- Number of Top 30 search listings
- Revenue generated by each keyword query

Now let's look at each item you've recently begun to track, or plan to track:

- Number of unique visitors to your website
- Revenue earned per unique visitor
- Amount of time average visitor remained on your website
- Cost per acquisition generated by online marketing efforts

- Revenue generated by each keyword query

Now that we have looked at developing benchmarks against which we can compare your future marketing initiatives, we need to review your overall online marketing approach to see how SEO and our other offerings factor in.

Okay. Now we have a holistic overview of your current and planned marketing efforts, along with an idea of your current benchmarks for tracking and analyzing performance of any new marketing initiatives we launch for you.

On the following pages, we will look at your website specifically to gauge your current SEO efforts and your current identified needs.

Now let's take

Your Website's Traffic Temperature

Your website is the keystone of your online marketing efforts. If some aspect of your website isn't performing, or if your targeted audience can't find it, all your online efforts will suffer.

This next section will take a quick snapshot of your website's current temperature, i.e. how HOT or COLD it is in relation to three elements of performance:

- A. On Page Optimization
- B. Sales/Lead Conversion
- C. Stickiness & Interactivity

With this information, we'll be able to fine-tune not only your website's traffic, but its ability to convert that traffic into meaningful revenues.

On Page Optimization

Your on page optimization are those elements that are included in your source code and your viewable text to encourage search engines to visit, index, and highly rank your web pages. We want to get an idea of how well your website is currently optimized. If you don't have a website, or are completely re-designing it, then simply make not of it here and skip to the Sales/Lead Conversion section.

Check off all the optimization elements or tasks you currently implement on your website:

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Keyword Optimized Content | <input type="checkbox"/> Link Monitoring (do you know who is linking to you, and to what page?) |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Unique, Keyword Targeted Title for each page | <input type="checkbox"/> RSS Feeds (Internal and External) |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Keyword Optimized Meta Tags & Alt Tags | <input type="checkbox"/> HTML versions of all PDF and Print Collateral |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Optimized and Tagged Blog Posts | <input type="checkbox"/> Consistently New, Updated Content |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Proactive, Consistent Linking Strategy | <input type="checkbox"/> Competitor Monitoring (do you check their rankings and incoming links?) |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Optimized for Mobile Phone & Tablets | |

Sales or Lead Conversion Analysis

Do you track your sales and leads, where they come from, what they responded to, and how much they're worth? How often do you split test your various marketing and conversion elements—such as copy, headlines, placement, colors, offers, and pricing?

Getting traffic to your website will only benefit your company if you can optimally convert that traffic into revenue. We can help you increase your current conversion ratios by at least 37%. Many clients see an increase of 75% or more.

Part One. Testing.

Identify which elements you currently test on your sales page, lead acquisition page, or other marketing/conversion pages:

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Headline | <input type="checkbox"/> Sub Headers |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Font or Background Colors/Typeface | <input type="checkbox"/> Photos |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Text Variations | <input type="checkbox"/> Pricing |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Offer | <input type="checkbox"/> Layout |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Guarantee or Discount Offer | <input type="checkbox"/> Call to Action |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Subscription Form & Button Type | <input type="checkbox"/> Freebies, Giveaways, Downloads |

Part Two. Tracking

Identify which elements you currently track for each visitor:

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Referrer URL (where visitor came from) | <input type="checkbox"/> Offer Responded To (if visitor take an action on your site, do you know which offer he responded to?) |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Entry Page | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Exit Page | <input type="checkbox"/> Specific Offer Iteration (if you provide the same offer or call to action in more than one place on your website, do you know which iteration resulted in the action?) |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Length of Time On-Site | |
| | <input type="checkbox"/> Visitor Feedback (do you provide a feedback mechanism?) |

Stickiness and Interactivity

A site's stickiness is determined by how often visitors return to your site and how long they remain there. Stickiness is important for several reasons. First of all, the more exposure your visitors have to your company and its offerings, the more likely they are to purchase from you.

Secondly, if you choose to sell advertising on your website, or you choose to partner with another company to offer their products or services to your site visitors, the length of time your visitors remain on your site, and how often they return, will factor largely in your negotiations.

In advertising, stickiness is often referred to as "Depth of Engagement."

Interactivity is also important—to build a trust and rapport between your company and its visitors. This encourages repeat sales, loyal customers, and positive word of mouth.

Let's look at how your website currently approaches stickiness and interactivity and then we'll look at how you'd like to turn up your site's temperature in this area.

Check off every dynamic or interactive element your website currently has in place:

- Blog Update Frequency: _____
- New Content Frequency: _____
- Community Forums Popular? YES/NO
- Podcasts, Webcasts, Other Media
- Social Networking/Bookmarking

Check off every dynamic or interactive element you'd LIKE your website to have:

And last, but not least, your goals...

Let's See

Where You Want to Go...

We're just about finished. All we need now is an idea of your overall objectives. Later, we'll use these to develop project milestones and overall efficiency analysis.

- | | |

| <input type="checkbox"/> # Unique Visitors/Month _____ | <input type="checkbox"/> # Top 10 Rankings _____ |
